Home Rule Defeated.

Mr. Gladstone promised Mr. Parnell that he would introduce a bill in relation to Home Rule, which would be satisfactory to those who clamor most for the independence of Ireland. How well this promise was kept may be judged from the fact that every one of Parnell's followers supported the Gladstone bill.

But Parnell and the Irish are not the only people who are to be satisfied, for the measure which they supported was very objectionable to a large number of the English and Scotch members who are still in favor of granting some measure of liberty to the Irish.

The trouble seems to be that Parnell asks too much at the present time, and refuses to abate in the slightest degree these demands for independence.

If Mr. Gladstone's bill had passed and become a law, the first step would have been taken toward the dismemberment of the British Empire. We can see no good reason why Ireland may not be governed by the same forms which govern Canada.

The Canadians certainly govern themselves in all substantial respects, and they do it with wisdom and with self-respect.

Let the same plan be adopted for Ireland. Let the same plan be adopted for Ireland. Let the same plan be adopted for Ireland.

It seems to be probable that an appeal to the country at this time will weaken rather than strengthen Mr. Gladstone and his party.

Noisy advocates of strikes, boycotts and destruction of capital and property are likely to find themselves confronted by the anger of a disappointed people before long. The reckless murder of policemen, in Chicago, will no doubt be followed by the hanging of their destroyers. Men like Most who counsel such things will learn wisdom, if such a thing is possible, in Sing Sing. Strikes entered upon without discussion, complaint, or cause, like the last general tie-up in New York and Brooklyn, will meet with instant and merited condemnation. The worst feature of trades-unions is their tyranny. Men must join them or starve; must pay to support officers and other strikers or go without work, and must obey the commands of a few chance-chosen leaders, however much their families may suffer, or they may protest. Unions may be well to secure fair wages and reasonable hours, but they should be democratic in principle, and controlled by educated and reasonable men. From these organizations much is to be hoped for which legislation cannot supply. Monopolization of vast sections of lands by single individuals or corporations should cease. The natural resources of the earth, the minerals, coal, iron, copper, gold and silver, should not be allowed to fall into a few hands. There should be a limit to the acquisition of such property upon the part of individuals.

The marriage of President Cleveland is receiving attention from the managing politicians. It is confidently predicted that he will now desire a re-nomination, since his wife will not be willing to leave the White House after only two years enjoyment of its privileges. As the South has been given a large share of the patronage, under the leadership of Lamar, Garland and Bayard in the Cabinet, its votes in a nominating convention can be confidently relied upon. New England, Pennsylvania and the West can be relied upon. Strange to say, New York, the pivotal State, is under the influence of Governor Hill, whose presidential bee has been buzzing of late. With the West, South, and East safe for Cleveland, Hill's boom is likely to prove premature. A new dispensation of patronage at the last moment will do much to conciliate the elegant patriots of Tammany, and wheel the State Convention into line.

The influence of women upon politics is a matter worth consideration to politicians. The wife of Lord Randolph Churchill was an important factor in determining his lordship's prospects in the last election for members of parliament. The Empress Eugenie is said to have been the cause of the last war of France with Germany. The likes and dislikes of society have much to do with the prestige of a royal family, perhaps of a Republican administration. The only two bachelors who have occupied the presidential office were Buchanan and Cleveland. The former made a badness of it; the latter—well, "all things come to him who waits." The first President has been married in the White House; the country rejoices, and hopes that days of disaster and trouble are past.

There is some talk among Republicans in the Southern sections of the State of nominating General Fiske, the Prohibition candidate for Governor. Diligent inquiry is making as to his former Republican record. The Democrats show especial anxiety as to the United States Senator, who is to be elected next winter. Indeed, it is said that in view of their great danger of losing control of the House at Washington, they are becoming exceedingly desirous of intrenching themselves in the Senate. The power of confirmation exercised by that body, would be useful in inducing Mr. Cleveland to make a more liberal disposal of patronage to Democrats.

County and State Notes.

Rev. Dr. John W. Keale, of Germantown, has been called to Westminster church, at Elizabeth.

A feature of Memorial Day in Hackettstown was the decoration of the grave of Tillie Smith. Both soldiers and citizens paid tribute to her grave, which was transformed into a bed of roses and other choice flowers. Dr. Conover and Chaplain Roderick made addresses of an appropriate character.

Dr. H. A. Battolph, ex-Superintendent of the State Insane Asylum at Morris Plains, has written a long letter to the Board of Managers in reference to the management of the institution. He indulges in many personalities, and in speaking of the outbreak of typhoid fever in the institution last Summer, he attributes the cause to bad ventilation and the close proximity of pig pens.

The Directors of the New Brunswick Fire Insurance Company held a long meeting Friday afternoon. Secretary and Treasurer Lewis T. Applegate reported that he had failed to reduce the amount of his $2,500 shortage. A committee, consisting of J. R. Palmer, Frederick Weigle and Judge Chas. Scott was appointed to examine his accounts thoroughly at once. Applegate is suffering.

The office of State Prison Keeper is a right clever one. The Keeper receives a salary of $3,500. In addition, he receives as matron of the prison, receives $1,500 a year. There is a coach and a team of horses provided by the State for the Keeper, and he has a two-acre garden, which is cultivated by the inmates of the prison. He has, besides, a fine residence free of rent, and the house is fully furnished, except beds, bedding and table linen. The table is also furnished by the State. Wise politicians state that the position is worth as much as a $10,000 public office in Washington.

Mr. Ballard, the Secretary of the State Temperance Alliance, proposes to assist legislative candidates in every district who will agree to support a bill giving the people the right to say whether liquor shall be sold in their county or not. His object, and the object of the Temperance Alliance, and the Church Board, is to secure the passage of a local option law, and it is immaterial whether it is passed by Republican or Democratic votes, so long as it goes through. The association he represents is composed of members of both parties.

Small fruits of all kinds promise a greater crop than ever before in New Jersey. Currants and raspberries never blossomed more freely, and cherries that are now beginning to ripen, are in such abundance that large branches are breaking with the burden of the fruit. They seem free from insect stings. The wild huckleberry and blackberry are now in blossom, the bushes being masses of flowers. Strawberries are just arriving from this State, and are of large size and superior in flavor. The crop is immense.

Some time ago Mr. Jacobus, living in Bergen county, back of Dundee Dam, had a son drowned in crossing Dundee Lake. The telephone was used to call up the sister of the young man, who is employed in Piaget & Co's jewelry store, and in putting her ear to the telephone she heard the following: "Your brother has just been drowned in Dundee Lake." Tuesday morning she was again called to the telephone. On applying her ear to the phone she was told that her father had just dropped dead in the field, while at the plow.

The Lakewood Journal, after a review of the political situation in New Jersey from both a Republican and Democratic standpoint, reaches a conclusion as to what Republicans should do: "The one way to success is to contest stubbornly every inch of political ground, upon the principle that this is the only way to either deserve or achieve the victory." The Camden Courier says that: "In a recent interview by a prominent Republican of this county of Major Pangborn, the Major gave it as his opinion that the endorsement of Fisk by the Republican State Convention would most probably elect him Governor of New Jersey, but would result in Hudson county in the loss of an Assembly district. In Essex Hon. George A. Halsey and Joseph Conitt both expressed their belief that it would result in an almost solid Democratic Assembly delegation next Fall." The same journal thinks the selection of Cator to manage the campaign will be an injury to the cause.

Elizabeth's Financial Trouble.

The Elizabeth Journal gives the following statement from Comptroller Carleton as to the unfortunate financial condition of that city:

There are two reasons why all the local creditors of the city are not paid for 1885. One is that some of the appropriations did not contain enough margin to cover the uncollected taxes due from the Singer Company, the Central Railroad and others whom it is either not advisable or not possible to push, and the other reason is that the percentage of the whole levy collected is smaller for 1885 than for 1884. Many of the policemen are still unpaid, a number of the poor accounts are unsettled, and the three Commissioners have from 20 to 30 per cent. of their compensation due them. All the bills for 1886 are unpaid and the financial officers of the city who have control of the moneys are not treated any better than others, all reports to the contrary notwithstanding. At the present time the Comptroller declares the city owes him for salary and for cash advanced to meet the incidental expenses of his office, which he has to take from his own pocket every year until the taxes come in. Everyone who works for the city must expect to wait until sufficient funds are in the treasury to pay him. Taxes when collected are apportioned pro rata, according to law, among the different accounts and the claims paid from such apportionment without any attempt to favor friends or punish enemies.

—Mr. John Wanamaker will shortly undertake the publication of a weekly magazine for children. Each number will contain several short stories, sketches, and verses, and will be fully illustrated by pictures which, without exception will be colored—a feature distinguishing it from all other similar publications in this country and likely to prove as attractive as it is unique.

A DRUGGIST'S VERDICT: "During 30 years drug business, never have I sold an article giving such universal satisfaction as Palmer's 'Skin-Success.' People who suffer for years with various skin complaints are constantly returning perfectly cured to thank me for recommending 'Skin-Success.'" —G. R. Harris, J. C. Heights, N. J.

PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

By the authority conferred on me by Joint Resolution No. 1, passed by the Legislature of this State, approved March 10, 1885, entitled "Joint Resolution in reference to pension claims of New Jersey Volunteers," I desire to announce to all concerned that the Congress of the United States, by bill approved March 19, 1886, has increased the rate of pension for widows and dependent relatives of soldiers and sailors of the late war from eight to twelve dollars per month, and that the increased allowance will be paid on the vouchers of June 4, 1886, without any application therefor on the part of pensioners.

An amendment to the pension law is now pending and will probably pass increasing the rate of pension per month to minor children from two to four dollars. I presume the same mode of payment will be followed.

A bill is also pending in Congress granting a service pension to the soldiers of the Mexican war. It will probably pass.

Any person entitled to increased pay or pension under the above or any other acts, can obtain advice or assistance by addressing the Governor, at Trenton, in which case the Adjutant General will have the matter specially attended to at Washington without expense to the applicant.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the great seal of the State to be hereunto affixed, [L. S.] at Trenton, this thirtieth day of April, eighteen hundred and eighty-six.

LEON ARBETT,
By the Governor,
HENRY C. KELSEY,
Secretary of State.
